Motivation Letter

Dear Mr Brinkmann,

nine years of bathroom renovations and boiler service in Madrid have taught me the two things your listing asks for: careful installation at the pipe, and a polite, orderly handover in front of the customer.

I have moved to Berlin for family reasons and am looking for a position as plumber / sanitary and heating technician. My German is at A2 - beginner level, with an ongoing course. On site I can work from plans and understand instructions; complex customer dialogue I will manage with time. What I can show you today: full bathroom renovations from drainage to washbasin, boiler replacements, leak repair in occupied flats, and a two-person crew routine since my apprenticeship.

Kind regards Anton Velasco
